'Arts Based Academics' Professional Development

Uses techniques + strategies for non-musically trained general classroom teachers by integrating music + the arts to expand and improve academic instruction

Educated teachers from new york city public schools jersey city public schools guttenberg public schools

'Beth Cohen provided me with practical techniques + strategies on integrating music to improve any subject in my classroom'

Christy Caruso / Jersey City Public School 20

'Arts Based Academics' Classroom Programs

Revitalizes school classrooms through the arts to build an 'environment of achievement' through music - raising academic test scores

Offering programs that have helped academic achievement by increasing student engagement in the classroom with kinesthetic + creative activities

'Our students were so engaged and attentive when we used the musical instruments - they were not even aware they were learning'

Anna Sanchez / Jersey City Public School 5

For Educational Communities

'Fear no Arts' Family Fieldtrips

Beth teaches parents to engage their children in the arts and where to find cultural low cost family field trips

She shows parents how to integrate classical music into their lives and to improve the art of parenting through the use of 'live' music by the family

'she exposed us to an unfamiliar world and made the journey enjoyable'

Jean Burns

'Fear no Arts' Parent Workshops

Established 'Fear no Arts', a federally funded program for families

Taught parents how to 'unplug from the digital world' using the arts to support the academic, social, and emotional well-being of their children

'our entire family dynamic changed as a result of beth's program - music has made the difference'

Michael Ignon
